

FAMILY NEXUS

@CHOA CHU KANG

The Family Nexus @ Choa Chu Kang is a collaboration among National University Polyclinics, National University Centre for Women and Children, Families for Life, Fei Yue Community Services and Health Promotion Board. It offers holistic and integrated support by providing families and children with easy access to healthcare, social and community services within the heartlands.

Our nurses and care coordinators counsel and advise on the Family and Child Health services available at the National University Polyclinics as well as provide the required referrals to our polyclinics, hospitals (specialist services), social services, parent support groups and Child Development Unit, to suit your needs.
